

JVC s GY-HM100 on show this week

JVC Professional is pleased to announce that the GY-HM100 camcorder will be exhibited at two Dealer events this week. The first, which takes place at Pinewood Studios, will be held by Planet Video Systems where the GY-HM100 will be on show at the grand opening of their State of the art showrooms in Pinewood Studios, on Wednesday 3rd March 2010.

The second event - which takes place on Thursday 4th March at 5:30pm, Curzon Cinema, Soho will be held by Camcom, and will provide a free workshop for upcoming Adobe video technology, and the GY-HM100 will be on display to demonstrate easy workflow from JVC.

The GY-HM100 and its bigger brother, the GY-HM700, are the world s first professional camcorders that natively record to Apple s QuickTime file format for Final Cut Pro .

Follow the links for more information on Planet Video Systems event or Camcom event.